

Program: Doctoral Academic Studies
Course title: PRIVATE INTERNATIONAL LAW
Teachers: Prof. Dr Aleksandar Jakšić, Prof. Dr Vladimir Pavić
Course status: optional (mandatory course for Private International Law stream)
Number of ECTS: 10
Requirements:
Aims of the course: The main purpose of the course is to provide students with in-depth knowledge of Private International Law (hereinafter: PIL) and allow them to apply PIL concepts in further scientific and research work. Particular emphasis is placed on critical re-evaluation of existing legal rules in domestic and international context, as well as theoretical concepts and judicial and arbitral practice.
Course result: The course offers to students a possibility to attain overall in-depth knowledge of Private International Law, including conflict of law rules and civil proceedings with a foreign element as well as rights of aliens. Particular choice of topics will largely depend on the thesis focus of students at the course. Complexity and variety of subjects at the doctoral course require a combination of methodologies in researching chosen topics which engages students to part-take individually (apart from regular ex cathedra lectures) in a series of interactive methods such as seminars, topical discussions etc.
Course content:
